

Junior LSLA Spring Seminar

Tuesday, 27 February 2018

Kindly hosted by Pennington Manches LLP, and in conjunction with FTI Consulting and Pacificus Mediation, we are pleased to announce the details of the Junior LSLA Spring Lecture as part of our series of events targeted at junior members of the profession.

“ADR – There is another Way”

Mike Pilgrem (FTI Consulting), Nikki Edwards (Temple Bright & Pacificus Mediation), and William Ingram Hill (Temple Bright & Pacificus Mediation)

“ADR is a very effective means of resolving civil disputes quickly and cheaply”, Sir Terence Etherton, the Master of the Rolls

It can, however, be fairly said that ADR has, at least to some extent, failed to achieve an integral position in the civil justice system that was envisaged at the time of the Woolf reforms, whether due to a lack of knowledge among practitioners or concerns that engaging in ADR would be an unjustifiable waste of resources. The court has encouraged, and is now increasingly pressing parties involved in civil litigation to resolve their dispute outside of the court process, and to this end the recently published interim report of the CJC Working Group explores the benefits and methods of promoting ADR, even positing the possibility of compelling parties to participate in ADR.

Chaired by Leigh Callaway (Fladgate LLP), our expert panel will explore the benefits and pitfalls of ADR (whether mediation, expert determinations or otherwise) for both clients and their solicitors; how to approach settlement discussions; the role of experts in negotiations; and the current proposals arising from the recent CJC report. We hope you can join us for what promises to be a fascinating discussion.

Venue: Pennington Manches LLP, 125 Wood St, London EC2V 7AW

Time: 6pm, for 6:30pm start with drinks, canapés and networking from 7.30pm.
