

Junior LSLA Spring Seminar

Monday 11 March 2019

“How to use a private investigator in litigation - easy as P.I.?”

Kindly hosted by Slaughter and May, we are delighted to announce the next Junior LSLA Seminar, as part of our series of events aimed at junior members of the profession.

Please join us for a fascinating seminar on how to engage private and corporate investigators to facilitate successful litigation. We will be hearing from four expert panellists about the ways that investigators can assist at different stages of litigation, including for serving a claim on a claimant who is difficult to locate and identifying assets in jurisdictions for enforcing a judgment.

The seminar will also consider how technology is transforming investigation in litigation and will share guidance and best practices for junior litigators on selecting the right investigator.

We hope you can join us for what should be an insightful discussion.

Chair: Natalie Osafo – Junior LSLA President and Associate Solicitor at Slaughter and May

Panellists:

Tony Imossi – Head of the Secretariat of the Association of British Investigators

Dick Smith QPM – Director of IP Forensics (GB)

Joseph England – barrister, Quadrant Chambers

Almira Cemmell – Head of FTI Consulting’s Global Risk and Investigations Practice for Europe and Africa in London

Venue: Slaughter and May, One Bunhill Row, London, EC1Y 8YY

Time: 6.30pm for a 7pm start with drinks, canapés and networking following the panel discussion
